Wappapello Tournament

Hawg Hawlers had another fun tournament at Wappapello Lake. The temperature on Saturday was unbearable but a nice breeze and some partly cloudy skies saved us on Sunday. The lake was at normal pool with water temps running around 87 degrees and the water was stained. Fifteen boats and thirty anglers managed to weigh in 162 bass.

Greg and Andy Shands organized a fish fry for the club Saturday night at Miller's Motor Lodge. Andy sure can fry some fish! All the food was delicious. Thanks you guys! And thank you Miller's Motor Lodge for allowing Hawg Hawlers to set up our fish fry on your beautiful grounds. We all had a wonderful time.

Our 2010 Pomme tournament was won by Michael Parmentier and Michael Parmentier, Jr. They weighed in eight fish for 11.44 lbs. The team was throwing jerk baits and Senkos. Other baits that worked were plastic worms and brush hogs. Air temperatures ranged from the 80's into the 90's with mostly sunny skies. The water was a bit under normal pool. The water temperatures were in the upper 80's and the water was stained.

The Winning Strategy

From my interview with Andy Shands.

Before the tournament we really didn't have a plan other than targeting to try and get our limit by throwing swim baits and buzzbaits. I didn't pre fish but dad had been to the lake a few times prior to the tournament. Our goal Saturday was to see if we could get our numbers so we went to Lost Creek where we knew there would be a good concentration of fish. We managed to get our numbers and limit out on Saturday so Sunday we wanted to target bigger fish. We went to Ashley Creek where we had a few holes that we knew would have less fish but they would be some good size ones and we were able to get our limit again on Sunday.

Andy, thanks for sharing your winning strategy!

We all scream for ice cream! The Hawg Hawlers Bass Club is planning a cool treat for a hot August Pomme tournament - an ice cream social. We are still in the planning stages and will let everyone know when and where. If anyone has an ice cream maker and would like to volunteer to help out, please contact one of your officers.
